

In the Specification:

Page 18, line 16-18 of the Specification states that, "The agent mixing chamber 324 or 324a is preferably removable and replaceable from the dechlorination device, and may be removed without removing the dechlorination device from the fluid flow path."

To remove and/or replace the agent mixing chamber, it is logically inferred that there must be a way to access the agent mixing chamber. Therefore, based on the inference and the above line from the Specification, a way to access the agent mixing chamber, specifically, an access cap, does not constitute new matter.
